Hard Rules and Much Red Tape Govern Courtship in the Army.

There Are Many Conditions.

The rules and regulations of the Salvation Army take cognizance of many points of character and conduct, but in none are they more stringent than in the matter of love and courtship.

In the regular "form of application for an appointment as officer of the Salvation Army" there is a long list of searching questions devoted to the subject.

They show with what serious effect the authorities of the organization have gone about bampering and bedging the course of the little god of love.

Here are some of the questions as they are numbered in the application blanks:
